

Federal White Cement

White Pigmented Cement

Description

Federal White Cement provides the basic performance characteristics of Type I portland cement, as well as the moderate sulfate resistance and lower heat of hydration characteristic of Type II portland cement. For architectural purposes white lime stone has been used instead of gray. Federal White Cement is an exceptionally versatile basic building material, suitable for a variety of architectural concrete construction applications where a white appearance is required.

Uses

Federal White Cement can be used in massive structures, as well as common Type I projects, such as sidewalks, reinforced concrete buildings, bridges, railway structures, tanks, reservoirs, culverts, water pipe, and masonry units or any place a white finish is requested.
